Built with the tradesmen in mind the OX Pro Heavy Duty Hooked Knife Blade is designed to offer a precise, smooth cut and outlast traditional blades. The hooked edge is constructed with multiple applications in mind, ranging from tubing, roofing, tiling, packaging, and other thick materials. Forged from high quality SK2 steel for ultimate durability to stand up to the rigors of the jobsite. The steel also creates a sharper blade and holds its edge for longer. The blade is semi-flexible to ensure less breaks or chips and adjusts to possible snags delivering a smoother cut. The blades come in a dispenser with a simple press and slide mechanism for easy storage as well as quick retrieval. Built to industry standard, OX utility knife blades are compatible with most knives on the market.
